Gavin Canardeaux : Cuisine du Moi: The Heart of My Passion before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Cuisine du Moi: The Heart of My Passion:

Honorary Governor of the Stationary Food Movement, Consultant Chef de Chef to the United Nations, patron of the Canardeaux Foundation for Children Without Seafood, and committed Awareness Band Wearer, Gavin Canardeaux is the crme de la crme of the cooking world. Dividing his precious time between London, Sydney, and New York, his wife and girlfriends and horses, his classic car collection, and his children, Gavin also manages to run his restaurant, Cuisine du Moi, largely via videoconference. More than a cookbook, this is Gavins philosophy and way of life, and is packed with his insights, thoughts, and half-crazed theories. Bitingly hilarious and darkly delicious, this is a dead-on lampoon of todays most infamous celebrity chefs.
