John McPherson : Daybrightener: Laughter Is Good Medicine before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Daybrightener: Laughter Is Good Medicine:

4 of 4 people found the following review helpful. laughter is good medicineBy A Customernever before have i seen a more hilarious, fall on the floor, "i can relate to this!" collection of comical settings. i just cant begin to decide which one is most amusing. The settings imitate real life, and i felt like i was in the middle of the funniest sit-com ever. It literally made me laugh out loud! What a genius and gift John McPherson is.

A thirty-day diaper. A Lazy Susan fast food collar. Celebrity dandruff snow globes. Great novels on toilet paper. And a child's head extension kit for amusement park rides. John McPherson is the guy to blame, um, to thank for these brilliant ideas, courtesy of the wildly popular and funny "Close to Home" cartoon. His panel is syndicated in nearly 600 newspapers. His books number twelve now. The "Close to Home Calendar is nine years running, and this year's is as outlandish as ever. Who else but John McPherson could come up with the Mouth Cam--a device parents attach to their kid's head so they can see if he tries to put any dangerous stuff in his mouth?
