Trilogy (Volume 2):

This book is quite simply the funniest book EVER written about politics. Our old mate Dennis Fish, the big gargantuan god is back again for a second delicious instalment of mayhem, madness and lunacy. Standing as a prospective candidate in the leafy West Oxfordshire seat of Withey, Dennis pits his wits against the former Prime Minister David Chameleon and the UQUIP guardian of the black arts Neil Lefarge. Armed with his attractice anti-propaganda ticket, Dennis not only seems to come into confrontation with every single one of his constituents but with the shadowy hierarchy of the establishment too. Laugh out loud, gnash with mirth and guffaw like you have never done before as public enemy number one Dennis Fish takes us on the biggest adventure of our lives.
