Stacey Leigh Brooks : Diary of a Creepy-Ass Doll before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Diary of a Creepy-Ass Doll:

As much as I love the author's first book, Creepy-Ass Dolls, this new one is on a whole different level of creepiness and dark humor. As the description says, it's written from the perspective of a crazy little doll hidden away in the attic and filled with her ramblings and doodles, which are demented and hilarious. And holy crap, the photos. I don't know how they did it, but the photos bring these dolls to life and make them seem like they are actually tiny evil people and not just inanimate objects. In a book filled with brilliant photos, it's hard to choose favorites, but mine are the ones where the dog is chasing the headless dolls, which really seem like they're running away from it. Amazing. The ones with the cat are great, too. Both the writing and photos make this one delightfully twisted and stellar little book. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great idea By Kindle Customer Bought it as a "joke" gift for my friend scared of dolls...It got passed around the table in interest! 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. So crazy and exactly what I expected By LUVTULLY This was a gift for my brother. He was laughing and couldn't stop thumbing through it while we continued to unwrap gifts on Christmas morning. He said he couldn't wait to show his friends, but they might think I'm a little twisted for giving it to him.

Scary Good In this darkly humorous book, discover the inner musings of a deliciously demented doll, once loved and now abandoned. Peek inside her secret diary of twisted thoughts and odd scribbles, hinting at her evil and madness.

But beware. She rules her attic kingdom with a porcelain fist and has minions who carry out fiendish plots against those who dare offend. So play nice. Or else. Advance praise of Diary of a Creepy-Ass Doll: "I'm speechless." Chatty Cathy "I laughed till I cried from both ends." Betsy Wetsy "It was so disturbing that I had the locks changed on the Dream House." Barbie "Shorter than War and Peace. No lie!" Pinocchio
