reading this book very much. This is a topic that I have grown an interest in since my husband died two years ago. We had been married fiftythree years and were real soul mates so it was really tough just surviving without him for quite awhile. This book helps to give me hope that maybe he really is still near me and I'm not all alone after all. If you believe in Mediums I think you will find this book very enjoyable to read. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great Read By mary I loved this book! It is so very helpful for people who have lost a loved one. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Would recommend this book to anyone who believes in the afterlife. By Peaches Would recommend this book to anyone who believes in the afterlife. I love her nonsense approach to spirit. She answers so many questions I had.

Highly unorthodox questions and answers about life after life from America's most delightful medium Concetta Bertoldi has been communicating with the "Other Side" since childhood. In her previous book, the bestselling Do Dead People Watch You Shower?, she addressed questions about the afterlife that ranged from the poignant to the provocative. Now she returns with Do Dead People Walk Their Dogs?, a second volume of intriguing observations about our beloved deceased. Moving, funny, and fascinating, it will open your eyes to what really comes after life—while offering intimate insights into Concetta's own astonishing life and what her gift has meant to her marriage, her friendships, and the path she was destined to take.

About the Author Concetta Bertoldi is a full-time medium with a two-year waiting list. She is regularly consulted by members of Britain's royal family, American celebrities, politicians, and others. She lives in New Jersey with her husband.
