Rob Merrett : Doodle New York City: Draw a day in one of the world's greatest cities before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Doodle New York City: Draw a day in one of the world's greatest cities:

New York, the greatest city on Earth, has some of the most celebrated buildings and attractions in the world. Everywhere you look, there are landmarks you recognize from films and places you know from countless photos. If you've ever wanted to cover the Guggenheim with graffiti, draw boats sailing under the Brooklyn Bridge, fill Central Park with flowers, or create your own version of the New York skyline, then now you can. Doodle New York City has collected together over 100 of these celebrated features and gives you a whole host of imaginative ideas to create your own fantasy version of the Big Apple.

About the Author Rob Merrett is a fashion illustrator and stylist who has worked with many leading design studios, apparel brands, and publications. His work has featured in Mondo Uomo, Per Lei, Vogue Nippon, and British Elle. The author is based in London, UK.
