Country Cartoonist Bryn Parry has galloped from the shooting field into the equestrian world with his latest book, Horses for Courses. This wonderful collection of detailed cartoons looks at riding from Bryn's unique point of view. Dressage horses flutter their eyelashes as they pirouette in ballet shoes; foxes dig pits to ambush the Huntsman; and jockeys are flung through the air as they pull the ripcord to their parachutes. The book is punctuated with 20 "Horse Types" written by Giles Catchpole which are both wicked and brilliantly observed, and everyone will recognize someone they know.

About the Author Bryn Parry is one of Britain's best known countryside cartoonists. His cartoons appear in The Shooting Gazette each month and he has illustrated countless products with his witty, detailed and perceptive pictures. Bryn Parry lives with his wife, Emma, their three children and two dogs in Wiltshire. Bryn's previous bestsellers are Mad Dogs and Englishmen, Shooting Types and, with his wife Emma, Home on the Range.
