Hilarious!!!!By Faridah TiszozJust finished reading How To Piss Off A Crappy Roommate and boy was it funny!!!In the book the author practically gives you an A-Z, very practical way to deal with that unwanted human being that you unfortunately have to live with.Imagine you have moved into this apartment that you have to share. So you find yourself sharing space with three total strangers, but as if that is not bad enough, one of them is a crybaby who complains about everything.You will have two options,either give in and let the crybaby depress you every single day and ruin your life, or stand up to him, find all sorts of ways to piss him off, and have fun while doing it. In this book option 2 is recommended, and if you are lucky enough that one of your roommates shares the same sentiments with you on the matter, then double the fun. From using alarms, eggs, music, booze, ketchup, glue, to even something as usually as innocent as Confetti, you will learn that anything can be used as a weapon in the fight against an annoying roommate. So if you have that annoying roommate that you want to piss off, you have found your own manual to an amazing and hilarious way to do it. 1 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Wonderful book! By Kelly How to Piss Off a Crappy Roommate by Matthew Golding is one of the most hilarious books I have ever had the pleasure of reading. I literally could not put it down because I was dying to find out what kind of new scheme the two roommates would come up with next to make Gay-D want to move out and find a new roommate to annoy and bother. I personally have never had the displeasure of having a bad roommate but I will definitely recommend this book to the people I know with horrible roommates. I loved how Matthew Golding wrote the book in alphabetical order of ways to annoy the roommate and thought it was very creative and made it more interesting than if it was written in chronological order. This book was funny, creative, engaging, and kept me on my toes the whole way through and I couldn't wait to know what would happen next to poor ol' Gay-D. 1 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Or "How to Have Fun in College" By Erno Buzas Everyone knows someone who's like the book's antagonist, Gay-D: an annoying neighbour, a crappy roommate or simply people we dislike. If you're looking for tips to bother them, this book has plenty of examples. But be aware: these two guys are not beginner-level pranksters. They really know how to piss off someone and they do it with the sense of duty of the crusaders. And in the meantime, you just won't be able to stop laughing. Full of the most unexpected twists and craziest ideas, this is the funniest book I have read in a long, long time. I recommend the book for everyone who wants to read something fun, but is not a little whiner. This is not children's play, this is some serious college fun.

If you are one of the unfortunate people to ever be burdened with a crappy roommate but didn't know what to do with him or her then this book is for you. I have taken the time to showcase 26 different methods that I personally used to combat a crappy roommate that I had. This book was written using the A to Z format, so every chapter, which corresponds to a unique method that was used to fight off an evil roommate, also corresponds to a different letter of the alphabet. In this book you will be exposed to fights, hookers, queers, alarms, booze, confetti, dumps, message boards, lame jobs, ketchup, ice shits, yarn, trash heaps, meat, pubic hair, the ocean, loud music, a framing, glue, hollerin', and a whole slew of other shenanigans. You cannot go wrong with this book. If you have a crappy roommate and don't know what to do with him or here this this is the book for you.

About the Author I have dabbled in writing before, you know, having written book reports or research papers in school, but I finally took that experience and wrote an actual book. "HOW TO PISS OFF A CRAPPY ROOMMATE" is my first official work outside of school. Aside from my writing, I am an MBA graduate with a degree from Arizona State University. I work in inventory management, so I am well versed in being able to track my sales and book inventory levels. I grew up in Virginia, have lived in Europe, Asia, and California, now live just outside of Chicago. If this book takes off then I may write a follow up. I have some ideas for a shorter book that would involve pissing off an RA.
