Andrew Harley : How to Sue Everyone: Ready-to-Use Legal Letters to Terrorize Friends Family before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised How to Sue Everyone: Ready-to-Use Legal Letters to Terrorize Friends Family:

8 of 8 people found the following review helpful. Funny gift for any sue-happy person you know By Jennifer M.I bought this as a joke to give to my husband who is in his first year of law school. I haven't given it to him yet (it's for Christmas), but I looked through it and it's pretty funny. Full of letter templates for situations like failure to have dinner ready on time, etc. Hmm, somehow I could see this gift coming back to bite me in the butt! Anyhow, it's sure to get a laugh at our family get together since there are two other attorneys in the family that will want a copy as well.

Domestic bliss is only one legal document away! Cohabitation Agreement Food Poisoning Report Notice of Adoption Reference for Ex-Partner Return of Unwanted Item to Dating Agency Form Girlfriend Application Form Notice of Substandard Housework In most relationships, there are times when nagging simply isn't enough. And, luckily, that's where these ready-to-complete legal forms come in. Return home after a busy day to no dinner on the table? Tackle the problem with an Absence of Food Report. Your daughter misses her curfew? Serve her with an official notice putting her up for adoption. Stuck with a boyfriend who doesn't shower enough? Make him fill out a Personal Hygiene Pledge Card. If that doesn't work, it may be time for a Notice of Dismissal. Simply select one of the legal letters, forms, or contracts, fill in the required blanks, check the appropriate boxes, and your work is done! With the Sex Agreement, Relationship Satisfaction Survey, Missed Birthday/Anniversary Form, and many more, domestic bliss is just one legal document away.
