One disappointing thing is that he states out-right that his interns did most of the reading and compiling and he just sorted through the good stuff to include. However, it is well worth the money since all proceeds go to charity! 2 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Very Funny and Enjoyable By HappyHippieMommy I bought this book for my husband for a Christmas gift and he enjoyed it so much he forced me to read it as well, we both LOVED it!!! I highly reccomend it!

I Found This Funny is a compilation of work by some of Judd Apatow's favorite authors. The book showcases many different styles of writing, from fiction to short humor to essays to comedy sketches to poetry. Featured writers include F. Scott Fitzgerald, Conan O'Brien, Lorrie Moore, Paul Feig, Jonathan Franzen, Alice Munro, and many more. Proceeds from the book will go to 826 National, a nonprofit tutoring, writing, and publishing organization with locations in eight cities across the country.

"This slick volume is full of compulsively readable and downright perverted nuggets."—Time Out Chicago "[A] hilarious treat."—Los Angeles Times "A deeply thoughtful compendium of literary pieces.... Leave it to the folks at McSweeney's to tap Apatow's Updike-ian erudition. It speaks remarkably well of him that he esteems the delicate humor of such intricately crafted pieces as Raymond Carver's 'Elephant' and Flannery O'Connor's 'Good Country People.' It speaks even better of him that the profits from his book — which mixes these subtle humor pieces with more flat-out funny stuff from Philip Roth, David Sedaris, Steve Martin, Nora Ephron and Jonathan Ames, among many others — go to 826 National, the organization committed to promoting creative writing among students age 6 to 18."—John McAlley, NPR
