what really caught my eye was on loyalty and faithfulness. I have never read anything by this author before and she has a very unique style. It was worth the money I paid for it. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. bookBy Margaret A. Lane I love Cathy Lechner books as she tells it in a funny yet poignant way that makes you laugh, but understand her point. 4 of 5 people found the following review helpful. True CathyBy A Customer This book is true Cathy. All the humor that you are used to in her other books come through in this book as well. After the death of her father and all of life's other pitfalls Cathy learned how to laugh again. This book is for you if you have faced trials and are tired of sitting in a sea of tears. If you are ready to move on, this book will help you to do just that.

Do you ever have days when you feel that you're stuck on a clothesline when you know you were meant to soar high above the mountain tops? God wants you to realize He is with you in every situation. You can find extravagant joy in the midst of your life...whether you are facing serious problems or are just worn down by the hectic pace of day-to-day living.

About the Author Cathy Lechner ministers with humor and prophetic anointing in churches and conferences around the world. She has appeared on TBN's "Praise the Lord" show, and she and her husband, Randi, are the founders of Covenant Ministries, Jacksonville, Florida. They have five children Jerusha, Gabriel, Hannah, Samuel and Abagael.
