They are notes, sketches, and brief memory pieces, many with a little hook or zinger at the end.They reflect a generous, forgiving, but sharp and sometimes penetrating sense of who we are. It's all drizzled with Southern charm and a bit of syrup, but many of the insights apply generally. Dietrich is perhaps overly fond of biscuits, (who can blame him?), but his little thought biscuits are probably better for you than are the real ones. So, grab a handful and enjoy. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Heartwarming stories from the heart By L.S.
