When I do it's because a product is so worth crowing about so it gets the attention it deserves. I've been a colorist all my life; and believe me, it's been a long life! About 10 years ago I got heavily into gel pens and precision ink coloring. Recently I got to wondering about watercoloring. My hands are at the root of this pondering as I have developed quite a hot case of arthritis in my right hand. I thought watercoloring might be less demanding. It is and isn't. Enough whining. My first desirable color books for watercoloring were by Pepin. They're lovely and provide gorgeous designs. But I was ready for diversity and the grayscale books beckoned. I've purchased quite a few carefully chosen and among these this, Spirit and Fantasy by Michelle Tracey, stands out as a remarkable coloring book. Not only the artwork and how it's gray scaled, but the paper is delicious. It's a little slick and has a slightly shiny appearance until you've coated it with ink. This book is wonderful and I just bought it again- something I've never done before. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By Karen Greenlee I'm happy with this coloring book I have enjoyed coloring in it thank you so much. Karen Greenlee 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Absolutely stunning pictures to color!!! Grayscale is perfect so is the paper it's printed on. Can't wait to start, which I am By Shayne Absolutely stunning pictures to color!!! Grayscale is perfect so is the paper it's printed on. Can't wait to start, which I am right now :) Looking forward to posting some pics when I'm done...
