Leland Gregory : Stupid Sports before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Stupid Sports:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Nice little diversion that lives up to its name (in a good way)By Paul MastinSometimes you can tell a book by the cover. Leland Gregory continues his habit of collecting the stupid, the little-known, and the amusing in his newest book, Stupid Sports. Of course he includes some great Yogi Berra quotes, and there may be a few stories you've heard before, but Gregory has gathered silly stories and inanities from around the world of sports that I can guarantee you've never seen. Funny (intentional and otherwise) quotes, facts and tidbits from sports, and a few memorable anecdotes fill this book. It's not a reference, not cohesively arranged, not a work of great literature, it's just--stupid sports. So put this next to your bed, on your coffee table, on in the "reading room" where you spend a few minutes each day, and enjoy the silliness. Thanks to NetGalley and the publisher for the complimentary electronic review copy!

In his twentieth humor book with AMP, America's best-selling chronicler of stupid antics returns with a new anthology of kooky sports-related goofs, gaffes, and guffaws. From political pandering and clunky criminals to historical hiccups, the jokes, wacky anecdotes, and inane quotes in Leland Gregory's Stupid-themed anthologies showcase the best of human nature at its worst. In Stupid Sports, Leland now presents more than 200 sports-related idiotic moments featuring stupid sports laws and regulations, quotes, and athlete interactions with the law, fellow teammates, celebrities, and more, such as: "This could ruin my career." —Darryl Strawberry to Tampa, Florida, police officers after being arrested for solicitation of prostitution and possession of cocaine on April 15, 1999. Featherweight boxer Richard Procter jumped into the ring at the World Sporting Club in London on July 11, 2004, and tossed off his robe to thunderous applause—only to realize he had forgotten his shorts. Fred Lorz finished first in the marathon in the Summer Olympics of 1904. Just before he was handed the gold medal, it was discovered that a car drove him 11 miles of the race. "Winfield goes back to the wall. He hits his head on the wall and it rolls off! It's rolling all the way back to second base! This is a terrible thing for the Padres!" —Jerry Coleman, Padres broadcast announcer

About the Author? The jokes, wacky anecdotes, and inane quotes in Leland Gregory's Stupid-themed anthologies showcase the best of human nature at its worst. Through his Twitter handle of @ChronicStupid, Leland shares headlines, quips, and unbelievable feats of folly culled from print, online, and broadcast media around the globe.
