I had no sideaches from laughing to hard, but it isn't that kind of stuff. As an Episcopalian, I felt close to the cartoonist and the characters in the 'toons because they "clicked"

for me. I don't mean to say there's nothing for those outside the denomination, not at all! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Three Stars By gvmhvn funny enough 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Sunday Funnies By Stewart Dixon Nearly 40% of the US population goes to worship on any given Saturday or Sunday, so why not take a humorous look at this weekly ritual. Jay Sidebotham's light hearted spin and behind the pulpit humor is a must read. His wonderfully composed cartoons come to life with his humor. Jay was at one time the Schoolhouse Rock cartoonist perhaps we should now call him the Churchhouse Rock cartoonist. Quick somebody call ABC, we have a show here...

A lighthearted romp through the funny side of church life. People in the pews? as well as the people in the pulpit? will recognize themselves in these cartoons that take gentle jabs at everything from dedicated volunteers to squalling babies, from Bible stories to the church year. A great gift for newcomers and confirmands, and a fun read for everyone who's part of a parish.

About the Author Jay Sidebotham, a contributor to the award-winning Schoolhouse Rock television cartoon series, is a professional artist and pastor of a church in Illinois.
